Jiu Jitsu

Our family came to Honduras with a desire to make heart-level relationships. We have been very intentional about getting out into our community and meeting people where they are. This has given us many opportunities to start building relationships with many different people.

The Jiu Jitsu ministry was started by one of our doctors at the hospital. David has been involved with this ministry since our first month on the field, and we are just now beginning to see the fruit (of this ministry) in stronger relationships. There are six teenage boys who have been spending a lot of time at our house. They jump on our trampoline, play basketball, ride bikes, have water fights, and join us for dinner.

Recently, a few of these same boys were very excited to share some news with David about saying no to drugs. You see, drugs are a huge part of life in our area. They are easy to come by, and there are many people that use them. Some of these boys were offered drugs by a friend, and due to the influence of the Jiu Jitsu ministry, and the men involved in it, these boys said no. They were so proud of themselves for saying no, and were so excited to tell David about it.

This ministry has turned into something much more for our family. While the boys coming over to our house is not always the most convenient for our family, it allows us to share Christ's love with them. David is a good example of how Christian men live their lives. Many of these boys do not get to see what a strong Christian family looks like. Because they come from broken homes, they live with grandparents, or just their mom because their dad is out fishing, out of the picture, or drunk and wants nothing to do with them.

Please pray for these boys. Their hearts are soft toward the Lord right now, and some of them seem ready to make a personal commitment to Him. Pray for opportunities to share Christ. Pray that He would be glorified through these relationships. Pray for their safety at home with their fathers and for them to continue to be strong against drug use.

Next Steps

Our family is going to be back in the states from the beginning of June – mid July, 2019. Since we feel the Lord calling us to at least another two years here at Loma de Luz, we will be returning to fundraise. Would you pray about continuing to support us, or beginning to support us financially and through prayer?

We are forming the schedule for our time in the states, and we would love to share our story and ministry with current and new supporters. If you are interested in hearing our story at your church or in your small group please contact us at teresa.roberts@cornerstoneinternational.org and we will do our best to include you in our schedule.

Year-End Giving

As the year comes to an end, and a new year begins, we encourage you to pray and seek how God would have you partner with us either with one-time gifts or with a new monthly gift. There are unforeseen outreach opportunities and ways that we can strengthen relationships that these extra gifts will help with. God has blessed us this entire time and we are excited to see how He will continue to provide. Is He asking you to begin or continue in the support of our ministry?
